Dear Friends,

Having got back from the first part of my sabbatical on the 3rd June, it has now taken a good portion of June to get my brain back into the swing of ministry in the pastorate. There was a lot to catch up on as well, with emails, and meetings, and news of people. I am just so grateful to our wonderful church secretaries and elders for updating me and helping me get back into the swing of things. As well as all the news of people under the weather - and there are many who are relying on our prayers at this time, there was also a rather sobering elders meeting, at which we began to share how things really are in our churches, something that we have tried to by and large shield each another from in the past. But with increasing communication within our Group we are able to 'carry each other's burdens' (Galatians 6: 2).

Sharing and carrying one another's burdens is not an easy thing to do. Firstly, it is not always easy, or comfortable, to open up to one another and admit that things are not as rosy as we would like them

Group Anniversary Service

Redcar United Reformed Church
7th July 2013 - 11.00am

A special service to celebrate being the East Cleveland Group. Please make sure you offer lifts and car share as parking is never the best at Redcar, but parking is free in the car parks on Kirkleatham Street round the back at the weekend.

Please bring some kind of contribution to the bring and share church picnic in the hall after the service. Drinks will be provided.

All church notices will be put on the projector, please send to Roger (roger.wheeler5@virginmedia.com or 01642 300546) prior to the service.

to be. Secondly, when we have a lot on our plate, we might have previously wondered how we can carry the burdens of others when things are tough enough for us. But here is the key, rather than continue our introspective gazing and sombre sharing of where we are, to look around us, to see others needs, personally and as churches, we can actually gain refreshment and encouragement as we take on the burdens of others. Good honest sharing also relieves false perspectives, relieves the pressure for us to be as good as others or as successful as others, without actually knowing their situation. Carrying each other's burdens means that we are in it together – a team, although with our differences, our unique characters.

My prayer for our Group is the same as my prayer for those who are struggling right now across the Group due to personal situations that they are facing, that we might learn to journey together every day through the good days and the bad, so that when we face a massive hurdle, or even a cul-de-sac requiring us to retrace our steps, that we do so together chatting with familiarity and supporting one another as we journey together persevering in ultimately finding the way of Christ, which is the path of life I pray we can all walk together. And of course, never forgetting who ultimately bears the burdens which we together carry... 'Praise be to the Lord, to God our Saviour, who daily bears our burdens' (Psalm 68: 19).

"Lift your burdens, unto Jesus, for he cares for you"... as the well loved song goes! It is a joy to be back and walking along with you all again!

God bless!

Catey

Let Us Pray

It is hard to look ahead and seek a vision
when the world seems in chaos
and the church often struggling.
It is hard to know what to pray; hard to begin.

Eternal, living God, God in perfect Trinity of love and being,
God who was and is and is to come,
give to us open eyes, hearts and minds
so that, each day, each week, each year, we allow you to enter in the noise of our worry
and into all our busyness, to show us your creative work in blending the threads of the past –
the joys and the sorrows – which are part of our lives,
into a re-created whole; your redemptive work,
in healing the failures and sin of the past
so that the weak becomes strong and vibrant;
your enabling work, in helping us live today
with a true, living vision for your future.

By your Spirit, show us what we must leave behind,
what we must hold as precious
and what new things we must learn,
that your kingdom may come in our church,
in our world, in our lives.

Jesus said, 'I am come that they might have life; life in all its fullness.' (John 10:10)

News from the Persecuted Church

Pray for churches and Christian organisations in the UK

They may be threatened with the loss of their charitable status! Since 2006 Christian charities have been obliged to demonstrate that their activities are of benefit to the wider public (before this date that was simply assumed if one of the charity's purposes was "the advancement of religion"). In 2012 a group of Brethren churches had their re-application for charitable status turned down by the Charity Commission because they were judged not to satisfy this requirement, despite the extensive work carried out by Brethren congregations in their communities. Losing this status would put many churches and Christian groups under financial pressure and severely limit their activities. Pray that the Charity Commission will see them as a force for good in society and encourage their work instead of crippling it.

Pray for churches in the aftermath of the ‘Arab Spring’

Attacks against Churches in Egypt have increased since the revolution of 2011. St. George’s church in the village of Sarsena was targeted by local Muslims twice in two days in February. They were incited by Salafists who claimed that the church was ‘an unlawful neighbour’ to the Muslims who lived next door. St. George’s was set ablaze on 15th February, and then the following evening, while a so-called ‘reconciliation’ meeting was taking place, Muslims threw Molotov cocktails and stones at the building. In a separate incident, a church in the upper Egyptian city of Kom Ombo came under attack for several days over an unfounded rumour that a Muslim woman had converted to Christianity; 12 Christians were injured in the violence at the end of February. Pray that the authorities will provide better protection for churches in Egypt.

‘Operation 18’

CSW’s new campaign will focus on Article 18 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights that states ‘Every one has the right to freedom of thought conscience and religion’. Please pray for wisdom for all of CSW’s staff involved in the campaign.

In Vietnam, some new Christians come under pressure not only from the authorities, but even from their own relatives and friends. Families of new Christians are sometimes encouraged by the authorities to harass the new converts pressuring them to give up their beliefs. Other times, they pressure them out of fear for their safety.

Prayers for the IPM Church in Mozambique

Pray for the Synod meeting at Antioch, July 12-15 and all who will attend it. As well as transacting the usual business, this meeting will be a jubilee celebration of 125 years since the first evangelistic work of the Swiss Mission in Mozambique. There is also a one-day meeting of Synod in November.

Pray for the two presbyteries of Umbulizi West and South East on the edge of Maputo, and for churches that seek to respond to the needs of people who are flocking into the ever-expanding capital city.

Situation Vacant Group Secretary/Administrator

At the Meeting of Group Elders in March it was agreed that we should appoint a Group Secretary,

- to give the Group more focus and
- to act as a bridge between Catey and the four Churches in a supportive role
- to service the quarterly Group Elders meetings.

We believe that this job is sufficiently important to be a paid one, and we can find funds which would allow this. Catey is in favour of this as it would mean that there was someone to take on the Admin work which she currently does, as is necessary when there are four churches..

A full job description, hours to be worked and rates of pay can all be negotiated. Is this something which would interest you? Please think about it and let any of the Elders or Catey know.

Jane Tomlin, Group Treasurer

Prayer Pointers

for needs and inspiration across the Group:

Prayers for the week beginning...

- 1st July      Pray for the IF Campaign, “IF there was ENOUGH food” following on from the recent summit held in Northern Ireland, which committed to giving 0.7% a year to eradicating world poverty. This may not seem like much but what was committed to be given will bring an estimated 2 million children out of starvation around the world. Pray for that to happen!
- 8th July      Please pray for our Redcar church as it struggles with a user group where debts owed are not helping the church finances at all. And pray for our Marton church as it continues to encourage users groups to be considerate in their use of the building. Pray for our response as Christians to these difficulties and for the right way to speak and act.
- 15th July     Pray for all who are in need in our communities, particularly those who are facing the challenges and uncertainties of illness. Pray for doctors to be there with compassion, understanding and with the knowledge to provide all the assistance and medical help that they can. Pray for encouragement for all doctors and nursing staff in our area.
- 22nd July     Again we pray for all those who are newly unemployed, and those looking for new jobs due to being unhappy in their current job. And pray for the families of those newly unemployed particularly where so many friends will be heading off on holiday. Pray for new businesses to move into our region in the coming months.
- 29th July     Pray for everyone heading off on summer holiday, for safe travelling and for times of refreshment.

- 5th August Pray for the housebound members of our churches, those who do not get out from the four walls of their houses. Pray for ways to bring them refreshment and summer into their homes.
- 12th August Pray for the Foodbanks and Foodstops within our area who are still giving out dozens of parcels every day even throughout these summer months. Pray that people will not forget about them and will continue to buy items for those in crisis during their weekly shops.
- 19th August Pray for God to bless us and stir in us new passion to learn from each other as well as from the Bible, as we seek to increase our faith and understanding of God, Father, Son and Holy Spirit.
- 26th August Pray for Lingdale church as they prepare to set up a Boys Brigade within the village, for boys and girls age 5-11. Pray that this will be met with enthusiasm.

F.A.F. Club

FAF Club next meets on Sunday 14th July 6.30-8.30pm at the Lingdale Manse.

Following that, there will be a summer trip in August to play Lasertag at MiniMonsterz, date to be arranged!

Please ring Catey for information

Trip to Iona

Please can everyone taking part in the September trip to Iona let Catey have the remaining payment by 13th July.

Also you need to speak to Catey regarding travel arrangements for the trip.

Nathan's News!

I am sorry if I am still going on about Nathan and his iPad, but I wanted to just update everyone once again! You will no doubt, in the course of time, see Nathan using his iPad as he carries it around all the time. And it really is a sight to behold as he now wizzes through the menus to say what he wants to say. It really is enabling him to speak and get his views across, as finally Nathan has a voice, albeit a computerised voice! Stephen Hawkings here we come!

We have to make sure that we keep up with Nathan's progress and add new words to his vocabulary as each new event in his life happens. Recently I had told Nathan that that evening, after school, I would cut his hair. Getting ready for this "important" event we had entered into his iPad the buttons "My Mummy" and "Cut my Hair". So what did he do that Monday morning but walk into school with his still uncut hair declaring proudly to his teaching assistant who met him at the door – "My Mummy cut my hair".

Also at the Group Elders meeting recently when he came in at the end, during the tidying away part, he clearly, and without assistance, asked if he could have a sandwich that was still sitting on the table uneaten from the tea that I had put on before the meeting.

AMAZING! The only problem that we have found is that we cannot insure his iPad, despite really needing to because of the likelihood of damage, because it is in the possession of someone under 18. So let us put it this way, we are leaving the fund open for future donations of amount, in order that we can slowly build up enough for WHEN it happens, because we know IT WILL! But hopefully not for a while at least! But what we do know is that Nathan HAS to be able to speak and tell us what he wants for his breakfast for instance. As he is very creative with his plans, we do need to know! A huge thanks!

From Another Church

Many years ago, my sister in law, a minister with the Church of Scotland, accepted an invitation to baptise Ben at St Andrew's during an interregnum. Twenty plus years later both have moved on. Ben is now a young adult, an adept musician and looking forward to training as a teacher. Rev Lorna Hood has developed her ministry gaining respect in her parish and in the councils of the wider church. This culminated in her appointment to the post of Moderator of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland last month.

Hence it was that family members, joined other guests in the moderator's gallery for the opening day of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland to witness her inauguration. The opening session commenced with a fanfare from herald trumpeters, as dignitaries in full regalia, accompanied by maces and military escort processed into the hall. The assembly then moved through a mixture of worship, pageant, ceremony and business including the induction of Lorna into her post.

We were excused assembly for the afternoon business session, and rejoined events in the more informal evening session. This included a review of his year in office by the outgoing moderator. The following day we worshipped with many of those attending assembly in St Giles Cathedral.

Reflections from the weekend include the glorious sound of singing as all present united in worship. The assembly itself sung without the benefit of any accompaniment: it is amazing what can happen when one person waves his arms about in front of a five hundred Christians - have faith and great things happen.

The informal evening session included the unforgettable sound of the steel band, COSTOS, from Trinidad. The group included old and young. Working together they produced marvellous melodies, all completely recognisable on their steel drums. This was achieved despite the bass drum taking exception to the Scottish weather! The music of the church crossed the continents and clearly spreads the message of Christ wherever it goes.

The out going moderator to the church shared with us the hope that he had witnessed in visits to the church. He went on to challenge that to survive the church needs to change; and that the change would have to be led by the 'grey hairs and the no hairs' because there is no-one else. May be our church is no different.

On the Sunday, as we came away from Edinburgh, the Church of Scotland was taking its message to the people through a carnival event in Princess Street Gardens. The event open to the whole community was expected to involve thousands of people. Is this what is meant by evangelism.

Guisborough

It is coming up to the time, at work, when I have to undergo my annual appraisal. This is a time when I look back over the year at what I have done, and what I have learned and look forward to how I will do things differently, and what I need to learn next year. This used to be a relaxed and interesting process but, with the introduction of revalidation of GPs, there is the added stress of satisfying all the requirements to be able to continue working.

At our church meeting recently we briefly discussed LMMR, local ministry and mission review. This is a similar process of appraisal for the minister and the congregation. Of course, one of the problems with any of these processes is that they are time consuming. They require many people to put in many hours work when time is precious and people to carry out the process may be hard to find.

The church meeting itself revealed another problem with appraising where we are, which is a tendency to concentrate on our weaknesses and, therefore, become more despondent about the future. At Guisborough we have members moving into care homes and an aging congregation. Poor access means some members cannot join us for worship. Some of our members are facing ill health and are a cause for concern for us all. The number of the willing and able to carry out tasks is diminishing and finances are challenging. These problems are not unique to us.

It is important to also look at our strengths. We are truly a family at Guisborough, we care for one another. Where one has to stand down from a role, someone will stand up to take over or to help to find another solution. Our major strengths are our faith and our love for each other. We meet for prayer regularly and are involved in the wider church in the town. Many of us are involved in serving God outside the church as well, in our work and our recreational activities.

Our young people and those who teach are coming to the end of an academic year. There will be exams and reports to assess the year that has gone and look forward to what the future may hold. After this, they will have a well earned rest and many of us will be taking holidays. It would be good if we could use this time of rest and recreation to concentrate on the positives in our lives and in our churches.

Wyre Valley Walk Festival 2013

On the 16th May 2013 Steven and I set off for our Christian Aid Trek at 6.30a.m. to go across the Pennines to the Wyre. It was a very nice sunny day for travelling.. We arrived at Delph Lane Quarry at 8.50a.m. where we were meeting to start our walk. We were walking by the River Calder this time.

Sixteen of us started the walk at 9.15a.m. and the weather was still nice with a cool breeze. We started at Rough Moor where we overlooked the Bleasdale Tower and then over Broadgate Meadow Wood. We climbed Fair Snape Fell where we saw the remains of a plane crash. This was where a Blenheim Bomber crash landed from mid air which resulted in the loss of two young lives in 1944. They were aged 22 and 25. There is a memorial in the middle of Fair Snape Fell at the exact spot where the two young men lost their lives.

At this point we were 600 feet above sea level and had nice views of Blackpool and Snowdonia National Park. Now we dropped to the River Calder itself and Tom Warings Well where we stopped for lunch.

After lunch we walked by the river and saw a lot of plovers, fennel, juniper and some forsythia. Walking over Hazelhurst Fell we started to see a few droplets of rain. Next we saw the chimney pots and works of Oakenclough and the Nuclear Power Station at Heysham in the distance.

We returned to Delph Lane Quarry at 4.00p.m. after walking a distance of 13 miles. We then went for a drink to the Barns Cottage Restaurant in Scorton followed by a meal at the Wheatcheif Pub in Garstang.

At 6.30p.m. we set off on our journey back over the Pennines getting home after a very nice day at 9.00pm.
